The screenshot shows the IBM Ideas portal. At the top, there's a search bar labeled "Search all products and ideas...". Below it, a welcome message states: "This portal is designed to provide you with an integrated view of all of your submitted, voted or commented on ideas for any IBM product supported by an Aha! product portal. To learn more about the IBM Ideas Portal, visit our support and FAQs page. Need help? Email us at ideasibm@us.ibm.com".

On the left, there's a sidebar with a blue button "Add new idea +" and a list of links: "My Ideas", "My Votes", "My Comments", "My Subscriptions", "My Followed Products", "My Shared Groups", and "Search".

The main content area is titled "My Ideas". It features a search bar "Filter ideas", a "Select multiple ideas" button, and filters for "Product", "IBM Wide Managed Tag", and "Status". The "Sort by" dropdown is set to "Recently created". An "Export CSV" link is also present.

A single idea is listed with the title "test" and ID "GPFS - I - #####". It is for the product "Spectrum Scale". The idea has 1 vote and 0 comments. It was created on 29 Jul 2022 by "kira.dickey@ibm.com". The status is "Not under consideration".

Callouts point to various elements: "Click here to add new Idea" points to the "Add new idea +" button. "Search existing Ideas, check if your idea already exists" points to the top search bar. "Your existing Ideas will be listed here" points to the idea list. "How many votes your idea has" points to the "1" vote count. "How many comments your idea has" points to the "0" comment count. "Status of existing Ideas" points to the "Not under consideration" status label.
